New Criticism. A literary movement that started in the late 1920s and 1930s and originated in reaction to traditional criticism that new critics saw as largely concerned with matters extraneous to the text, e.g., with the biography or psychology of the author or the work's relationship to literary history.

Introduction to Modern Literary Theory - Kristi Siegel

Critical theory is a school of thought that stresses the reflective assessment and critique of society and culture by applying knowledge from the social sciences and the humanities. As a term, critical theory has two meanings with different origins and histories: the first originated in sociology and the second originated in literary criticism, whereby it is used and applied as an umbrella term ...

Critical theory - Wikipedia

Critical Theory has a narrow and a broad meaning in philosophy and in the history of the social sciences. "Critical Theory" in the narrow sense designates several generations of German philosophers and social theorists in the Western European Marxist tradition known as the Frankfurt School.

New critical theory (NCT) is third-generational critical social theory (critical sociology). It resembles postmodern critical theory, critical postmodernism, and the post-Marxism of Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe. NCTs begin, like the first- and second-generational theories of the Frankfurt School before them, with a Marxian focus and then add other frameworks.
